

Update on Maretron Business

Nothing matters more to us than our responsibility to protect the health of our families and the entire community, especially those at most risk. We understand the concern and uncertainty you may be experiencing surrounding the coronavirus (COVID-19). Just as important to us is that we continue our Mission, which is to be the trusted partner in supporting our dealers, OEMs and customers. In this unprecedented time, we want you to know that we remain committed to your success and are prepared to provide you with consistent service.

As a result of the current situation, we have made adjustments to ensure our employees are safely able to continue their job responsibilities. Carling Technologies is operating under current CDC guidelines, allowing business as usual for product orders, customer service and technical support. Our engineers have been set up with remote access to the Maretron network and continue their work on new technology, product enhancements and special projects.

As always, we are here to help. Please let us know if you have additional questions or needs as we work through the current challenges together.

Sincerely,

Kip Wasilewski
