

Where would I use a J2K100?

You use the J2K100 if you have a propulsion engine or a generator that has a J1939 network connection and you want to display engine or electrical information on an NMEA 2000 compatible display.

Online URL:

<https://www.maretron.com/wp-content/phpkbv96/article.php?id=221>