

What is an RAA100?

The RAA100 is a rudder angle adapter that converts an analog resistive sender into digital information, which is then broadcast over the NMEA 2000 where any NMEA 2000 compatible display can show the rudder angle. The RAA100 can be used with or without analog gauges and it can be calibrated for accurate indication of rudder angle.

Online URL:

<https://www.maretron.com/wp-content/phpkbv96/article.php?id=268>